A Note From the Pastor

Dear St. Malachy Parishioners

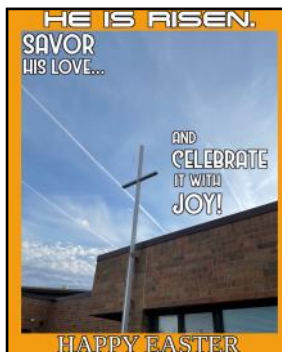

"The body that rises living from the tomb is no longer simply the body that experiences human thirst; it is now and forever the body of the wellspring of life" (Jean Corbon, from his book "The Wellspring of Worship" which has been part of my personal spiritual reading recently and contributed a great deal to the reflection that led to the Easter homily). As I emphasized last week, the River of Life pours forth from the Lamb who was slain and yet stands, who died and is risen, as Saint John saw in Revelation. This stream is given to satisfy our thirst for life, for the life beyond suffering and death, which He lives in His glorious Resurrection. Yet, along with John, we see this river pouring forth from the Lamb of God, not only in that mysterious vision at the end of the Bible. We also see this same saving stream pouring forth from His Heart, when it is pierced upon the cross and blood and water flow out. Moments earlier, John had heard the words "I Thirst" escape His blessed and parched lips.

The Paschal Mystery, our Lord's passion, death and Resurrection, that blessed and single mystery which began on Holy Thursday and is only concluded with Easter, is indeed the place where His Thirst meets ours. Perhaps that is part of why the Easter Octave concludes with this Divine Mercy Sunday, in which we reflect upon that saving stream of Mercy. We read the Gospel story of what happened one week after Easter Sunday, when He invited Saint Thomas to touch the wounds which are the blessed font of the stream which alone satisfies our thirst and heals our hearts of our doubt, our fear, our despair or whatever else ails us where it counts most - in our souls!

In this light, it might begin to become more clear why Our Lord, in His many appearances to Saint Faustina, early in the twentieth century, asked that this Sunday be forever venerated as "Divine Mercy Sunday" It might also begin to become more clear why He also asked that this be a day to honor the image He gave her. It is an image of Himself, opening His cloak to reveal His Heart, as He walks toward her (and toward us), but the light pouring forth prevents us from seeing that Sacred Font, only the stream pouring forth from it, the Blood and Water. Only they are not seen in the form of a flowing stream... but of light, scattering darkness in both directions. Is this not a mystical representation of what Saint Thomas saw one week after Easter Sunday?

Dial the clock back just one more Sunday (before Easter Sunday) and you will recall that we began this holiest of seasons with Palm Sunday, in which we reflected upon Our Lord's Passion and Death, before we could celebrate His Resurrection. Now, this trifacta of climactic Sundays finishes by coming full circle back to the mystery of His Passion and Death, only now we look at it through the lens of His Resurrection, as if gazing through the wounds in the hands stretched out to Thomas and to you and me. Now, we wonder at the mystery which Thomas, a doubting sinner like you and me, was invited to touch: glorified wounds. Will we stretch out our hands to touch them? Will we gaze upon them with heartfelt gratitude? Will we remember that it is by His wounds... that we are healed?

Savor His Love... and celebrate it with joy, as you follow Jesus... with the Faith of a Child!

In Christ through Mary,

Fr. Daniel P. Gifford
St. Malachy, Pray for us

Prayer for Peace in the Ukraine

O Prince of Peace, once more we hear the guns of war, once more we see the faces of frightened children. We pray for the people of Ukraine, that they may be granted peace; we pray for the people of Russia, that they may demand peace; we pray for our country, that we may be a positive part of peacemaking in this world.

O Prince of Peace, lead us from this dark time to a deeper understanding of the global human family, so all may break bread together in the secure embrace of peace. Amen Jane Deren, Ph.D.

The Geneseo-Atkinson Food Pantry is open: Mondays 9:00 am to 7:00 pm; Tuesdays and Thursdays 9:00 am to 4:00 pm; and Fridays 9:00 am to 12:00 pm. Food is distributed, and donations are gratefully accepted during business hours. We also have collection boxes in the vestibule at Fareway and at Inspire Continuing Care for food and personal care items.

The Food Pantry will be closed on Monday, May 30, in observance of Memorial Day.

Any residents of Geneseo or Atkinson may shop once a week in the clothing room on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays.

Thank you to Girl Scout Service Unit 886 for your donation of 64 baskets of ingredients for an Easter meal, and 42 baskets of Easter candy for children. Food Pantry guests were excited to receive their baskets!

The Food Pantry provided food and other assistance to 81 households in March. Food distributions in March were equivalent to 3,085 meals, made possible through our community's amazing support!

April was National Volunteer Month—a month dedicated to recognizing the importance of volunteering and honoring the significant contributions volunteers make by generously donating their time and talents to worthy causes. Our Food Pantry has 28 volunteers, and many of them have been volunteering for years! The volunteers are the key to food, clothing and holiday distributions. Thank you to all our volunteers!

We salute the following individuals and organizations who give so much to the Food Pantry: Don Buechler, who has been delivering about 18 dozen farm fresh eggs every week for a very long time; Sue and Tim Kretschmar who drop off a box of bananas for our guests each week; Dick Mattan who regularly delivers donations collected by St. Malachy church; Sellman Cox Insurance Agency for the cart full of milk they donate each month; and Inspire Continuing Care for collecting and dropping off donations each week! You are all such a blessing!

You may visit our website at geneseofoodpantry.org or like our Facebook page for updates on current Food Pantry needs, food drives, and other events.

Food needs for May are: Coffee, salsa, canned pineapple, crackers, and mayonnaise.

Non-food needs include: Garbage bags, freezer bags, foil, dryer sheets, and all-purpose cleaner.

At Wisdom Financial there is nothing more important to us than families achieving their dreams through the discovery of financial Freedom, Truth & Wisdom.
